Suppose you could buy a Paquin gown six weeks after it came out in Paris—at one-fourth its original cost. You'd snap it up, wouldn't you?

Women's Regals are fashioned in quarter-sizes after the most exclusive designs of European custom bootmakers—six weeks after these models are first exhibited. There's no difference in materials or workmanship—not a bit. The difference is in the price alone. Regals for women cost about four times less.

And the fit and comfort are all there.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contains no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. The one medicine which fulfills all these requirements is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle-wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements. It is not given away in the form of "trial bottles" to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilarating effects may seem, for a time, to do good, but which from the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It cannot possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. It has been carefully adapted to woman's needs by an experienced physician—a specialist in their diseases. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shopgirls," housekeepers, nursing mothers and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus' dance and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely today than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

CLASSED AS MARTYRS

DISMISSAL OF COLORED TROOPS
SUBJECT OF CRITICISM.

Address by Thomas L. Jones, Colored Attorney, in Which President Roosevelt is Scored.

The dismissal of the colored troops by the Attorney Thomas L. Jones at a meeting of the National Anti-Jim Crow Car Association, held Wednesday evening at 616 D street northwest. Attorney Jones said, in part: "The question which brings us together is one of more than ordinary interest and importance to the 10,000,000 colored Americans in this country. As I stand before you, my fellow-citizens, the words of the great Prophet Jeremiah loom up before me, 'Oh, that my head were waters and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughters of my people.'"

"By the stroke of the pen of the chief magistrate of the nation, Theodore Roosevelt, 200 of the truest, most gallant and the bravest of American soldiers have been dismissed from the army and turned out like dogs upon the cold charities of the world. These martyrs, who have not only sustained the honor and the dignity of the American flag at home, but who have gallant and patriotic service in distant possessions in the far east has won the praise and admiration of the world, have nowhere to lay their heads."

Services and Hardships.
"When I think of the services these black patriots have rendered to their country's flag, the hardships, the deprivations away from country and their native land, and when I think of their wives and children and the great sacrifice which they endured facing the mouth of the cannon, the shower of shot and shell to uphold the glory of the flag of their country, and when I think that in their old age, by reason of the service they have rendered to their country, they are unfit for any other occupation or avocation in life; and when I think that by this sweeping order of their enemy in the White House they are discharged from the army, denied their law-given right of a pension, debarred from the Soldiers' Home and prevented from either enlisting again or holding any position under the government—when I think of all this I can but wonder whether patriotism is but a name and the gratitude of this nation a mere mockery."

"There is a maxim of law, hoary with age, which says that it is better ninety-nine guilty persons should escape than one innocent should be punished. The American people will demand of the President of the United States to tell them what evidence he has in his possession upon which he has in this act convicted without trial or jury hundreds of American soldiers and dismissed them from the army in disgrace."

Alleges Injustice.
"The injustice practiced upon these faithful and brave defenders of American honor is so palpable as to arouse the righteous indignation of all who believe in the square deal and the open door of hope which the President has openly and publicly expounded, but which, in later days, for reasons known best to himself, he has repudiated and joined hands with that element of the south which has always been opposed to the negro in this country and will do anything to keep him down."

"Has the President forgotten that at the battle of Santiago when he was enveloped in a cloud of shot and shell and bullet and when his regiment had almost been exterminated, when the 1st New York Regiment had failed of their mission, and when hope seemed to have fled, it was these black American soldiers, climbing the parapet, walking over the prostrate forms of the dead and dying in the midst of rain and hail of Spanish bullets, ascending the hill and saved him from death, rescued his command from annihilation and planted the American flag of victory on El Caney's bloody summit?"

"Has he forgotten all this and the fact that he has today the President of the United States by reason of the services of the very black men that he has disgraced? When I think of this outrage on his part I can but say, 'I curse, where is thy virtue, oh Liberty, where is thy throne.'"

THE ALTGELD PROPERTY.

Litigation Which Promises to Be a Cause Celebre.

CHICAGO, November 23.—The Record-Herald yesterday said: Possession of one of the principal skyscraper office buildings in Chicago, the interests of Mrs. Emma Altgeld, widow of former Gov. John P. Altgeld, and indirectly the memory of the former chief executive of Illinois, are involved in litigation now pending in the circuit court, which promises to become a cause celebre.

Through the pleadings already of record in the suit runs the story of the futile attempt of one man who had won the highest honor in the gift of his state to combat the combined influence of powerful interests in his fight to recoup his vanished fortune; of his steadfast adherence to the cost of failure to regain his financial standing; to the principles which had brought him absolute bankruptcy and of his death at last, his estate wiped out, his home mortgaged and his widow dependent on the kindness of his friends to put her beyond absolute penury.

At the approaching session of the Illinois legislature appeals will be made by friends of John P. Altgeld for an appropriation for a public monument to his memory. Besides the legacy of a life full of achievement, the only monument remaining now to the memory of the governor is the long and costly suit which represents all that is left of the extensive interests he controlled in his lifetime.

The Unity building, 79 Dearborn street, erected by ex-Gov. Altgeld in 1892 at a cost of about $800,000, now valued at something in excess of $1,000,000 and yielding an annual rental of more than $40,000, is the property at issue. Into its erection and maintenance as a business enterprise the former governor put all of his financial resources, his energy and his ambition for wealth. Before his death he saw it slipping from his grasp, and, despite his desperate efforts to retain control at his death, his only interest, which passed to his widow and now tends to the pending suit that which redeems it from a mere dry proceeding in foreclosure, was equity of redemption in stock of the company which he formed to exploit the venture.

The sole legate of the former governor when he died, March 12, 1902, in Joliet, a few hours after he had addressed a monster audience there, was his widow, and her only tangible inheritance was the equity in the stock which her husband had hypothecated in his last desperate effort to save his holdings.

Private Richard Shannon, Troop F, 13th Cavalry, was tried by a general court-martial at Fort Myer, Va., and found guilty of sleeping on post (four previous convictions having been considered), and was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged, forfeiting pay and allowances, and to be confined at hard labor for six months.

IMMIGRATION A THEME

ADDRESS BEFORE SONS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

The Sons of the American Revolution held its initial meeting of the season at Rauscher's Wednesday evening, when over one hundred members were present. Immigration was discussed and the remainder of the evening was passed in social recreation. An excellent musical program was provided, the opening selection being a corio solo, "The Star-Spangled Banner," by Master Stuart Dewey, accompanied by Robert Smith. The historian of the society, Rev. J. L. French, gave several brief biographical sketches of the members who died during the past year.

Judge Stockbridge's Address.
"The tide of immigration," said the judge, "is no longer what it used to be. It is not any more of the down-trodden, liberty-seeking element, but the immigrants of these days are herded together by steamship companies who dump the foreign pauper and criminal in vast hordes on our shores. These people left their countries for their countries' good. We have nine states in our country that constitute the role of dishonor to this republic. So long as it is possible that a foreigner after twenty-four hours' presence in this country can take out naturalization papers and cast his ballot the institutions of this country are alarmingly unsafe and insecure."

"The country is not safe as long as laws of this kind exist. A situation may arise here, which, though the influence of these immigrants on our body politic, may lead to extremely dangerous situations and practically undermine the institutions of this country. These so-called citizens are a danger and a menace, and it is our duty to blot out this roll of dishonor of states, where the corner stone of the republic is being shaped of our future, our prosperity and our very existence."

A solo was then rendered by William Clabaugh, an original composition by himself, entitled "To the Flag," and as an encore Kingsley's "Three Fishers," Philip Leo Scantling sang, with effect two patriotic selections, "Beloved Awake," and "Her Bells."

"First Aid" to the Bowels

HEN Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Headache, Bad Breath, coated Tongue, Belching of Stomach, Gas, or any of these forerunners of indigestion appear, Old Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot: in your pocket.

Dr. Cascaret guarantees to cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation and Indigestion, without discomfort or inconvenience.

His medicine does not gripe nor purge, but exercises naturally the muscles that line the walls of the Intestines and Bowels.

Want of Exercise weakens and relaxes the Bowels. Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg Muscles.

Old Dr. Cascaret goes directly after these Bowel Muscles. He wakes them up just as a cold bath would wake up a lazy person.

Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other everyday likelihoods tire the Bowel Muscles.

In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it saves.

Little thin Cascaret Box, shaped so you don't notice its presence in purse or vest-pocket. Contains six Candy tablets—Price Ten Cents a Box at any Druggist's.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "O.C."

Hurry and Worry

Hurry, like a cyclone, whirls you along at a rate that quickly exhausts your energy, and leaves you a nerveless, wretched, broken-down physical wreck.

Worry accomplishes the same results in another way. It drags you through the dark, gloomy tunnel of forebodings, wrecks your nerves and breaks down the constitution.

Then don't hurry; don't worry. But you will; and your nerveless, exhausted condition brings headaches, neuralgia, heart, stomach, liver and kidney troubles. The thing to do is: Strengthen the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nerveine.

"Six months I was bedfast with nervous prostration. I had sinking spells, a cold, clammy feeling, could stand the slightest noise. At times I would almost fly to pieces; stomach very weak. My husband insisted on my taking Dr. Miles' Nerveine, and I began to improve before I had finished the first bottle, and today I am entirely cured."
